Governor Jan Brewer Announces Director of Department of Real Estate

PHOENIX - Arizona Governor Jan Brewer today named Judy Lowe as the new Director of the Arizona Department of Real Estate.

"Ms. Lowe has enjoyed an extensive career in the field of real estate that will serve the people of Arizona well," stated Brewer. "She is an established industry leader who will help guide us through these unstable times in our state's real estate market."

Ms. Lowe is the former President and owner of Realty Executives Southern Arizona, where she worked in various areas of real estate including commercial, residential, land, new home sales and relocation, and corporate services. Prior to her time there, she worked her way from a real estate secretary to become one of the owners of Coldwell Banker Success Realty Arizona in 1992. Ms. Lowe is currently active in working with local government jurisdictions on Southern Arizona affordable housing issues. She has been a licensed realtor in Arizona since 1980 and a licensed broker since 1986.

Ms. Lowe has served on the Executive Committee of the National Association of Realtors (NAR), Director of NAR for fourteen years, as president of the Arizona Association of Realtors and as President of the Tucson Association of Realtors. She recently worked on the Real Estate Committee of the Arizona/Mexico Commission and on the International Real Estate Council. Ms. Lowe has also been the recipient of the "Arizona Realtor of the Year" award and the "Tucson Realtor of the Year" award.

Ms. Lowe is very active in her local community, where she is a member of the Tucson Chamber of Commerce, the Tucson Children's Advocacy Foundation and is an annual participant of the Arizona Town Hall.
